only a loser would poke fun at this (points to top of head) this is ancient. this is biblical. people say I don't read but it's not true. not true. look around my 757 and you will see piles of papers, everything my staff prints for me off the internet. it's important to read your history. and the history says that the Drumpfs of God peered down upon the pole-dancing Tens of Canaan. and they flew down to the Low-Energy Earth. and they took the Super-stacked Gorgeous Women of the Earth as their wives, I can tell you (raises okay sign with fingers) and the Children of the Drumpfs called themselves Trump. and the Trumps became famous for their massively huge fingers (holds up naked mugwump hands he believes are massive), famous for their 280-yard golf swings, and famous for their tail nubs. That's right: tail numbs, very very very popular with their wives, I can tell you. and from these nubs grew long strands of golden hair. and the Trump wives braided this hair up the backs of their husbands and swirled it around and around their heads...into halos, but not just halos: Trumpalos. and the Losers of the North called them Emim, meaning "Frightful Hair from Shinar." and the Losers of the South called them Zamzummin which means "Masters of War." and the Losers of the Southwest will call us Ivvim which means "Builders of Massive Towers and Walls." and the Losers of the Beltway will call us Nephilim, meaning "Golden-haired Smashers of the World." do I have the best words? do I have the best of the very best words?
